night of inscribable agony. When we went to press yesterday afternoon the boy appeared to be somewhat better, from the effect of the new South American specific Cucare, which had been injected under the skin of the arm. But his relief was only temporary, as his paroxysms soon afterwards increased in violence and the intervals between grew shorter and shorter, and from midnight until 5 o'clock. when he died, it required the efforts of two men to hold him in bed—his strength appearing almost superhuman. Between these terrible paroxysms the child was not only rational, but talked with the good sense of a youth of fifteen rather than a child of six years. His greatest fear appeared to be that some harm would happen to his mother, and whenever he felt the spasm coming upon him he would urge her to run from the room and save herself. To his disordered mind during his spasms the room appeared to be filled with horrible and dangerous objects that were constantly menacing himself and his mother. At times he would scream and throw up his hands as if to ward them off; at other times he acted as though serpents or other monsters were coiled about him, and would use the most frantic efforts to untwine them. He foamed at the mouth and his eyes Plared fearfully, but he at no time barked or attempted to bite, or made any other canine demonstrations. He scemed to be merely possessed of a terrible fear, and every ob-ject around him appeared to assume a fearful form. It was not merely a fear of water, but a fear of everything. In his lucid intervals he would ask for his medicine, which was liquid and looked like

During yesterday afternoon and last night, he was visited by a large number of our city physicians, who took much interest in the case and made close observations of its wonderful manifestations, Dr. Foreman, the family physician, was with him almost constantly and Dr. M. L. Herr spent several hours with him, other physicians remaining for shorter periods, but none of them could do aught to relieve him from his indescribable mental suffering. It is not believed that he suffered any bodily pain, but all his actions and every lineament of his countenance betokened the most intense terror of something horrible seen by him, but unseen by those around his bed. Happily death relieved him about 5 o'clock, and his pretty little face, so distorted with

NAN BUTLER AGAIN. She Attempts Suicide for the Third Time. Nan Butler is the name of a little colored woman on Middle street, who has figured quite extensively in police circles of late years. Last night William Butler, her husband, had a warrant issued for her arrest on a charge of drunken and disorderly conduct. She was captured by Officer Flick, who started to the station house with her. On the way she picked up a stone and struck herself on the head with it. She was slightly stunned, but soon recovered consciousness, and was placed in a cell. About half past one o'clock this morning Chief of Police Deichler, who was on duty in the station house, finding that all was quiet in the cell occupied by Nan, went down stairs. He unlocked the cell door, and upon going inside found Nan lying on the floor with her head some distance from the floor. Around her neck was tightly drawn a piece of goods, which she had torn from her dress, the other end of which was tied to the upright steam pipe. The officer thought that the woman was dead, but upon examination found her pulse was still beating. He quickly cut the rope and it was not long pefore she had fully recovered. This is the third time that Nan has attempted suicide in the station house by hanging herself within a year. She has always been discovered and rescued.

THE FIREMEN.

Their Picule-Serenades, &c. The picnic given at What Glen yesterday by the American company in honor of their Allentown guests, was very largely attended. The order was every good and all present enjoyed themselves. During the afternoon an accident occurred to one of the Allentown men, by the name of Milton Weider. He fell over a bench and broke his arm. After the accident he was placed in a wagon driven by two other firemen, who started to town with him. While coming along the pike just outside the city, the horse ran off and upset the Weider and the others were slightly bruised, but their injuries are not serious. They finally succeeded in getting to town and Dr. Grove dressed the wound ed man's arm. This morning the Allentown boys, accompanied by their band visited the engine houses of the city and were kindly received. We are indebted to the band for a fine serenade tendered us this morning. The music discoursed by the band is of an uncommonly high order, each member showing complete control of his iustrument.

The old eaying that "a new broom sweeps clean" receives fresh proof every day in the rapid deterioration of many articles that have obtained a good reputation before the public. Inno lineof business has this deterioration been more marked than in many once popular bitters whose proprietors have allowed their preparation to become worthless because of their many hundred orders and inordinate love of gain, than in anything else. The music is by Rossini, and Max Maretzek, of the Italian opera of New York, will interpret it with the aid of a large or chestra, a big chorus and the vocal members of the company. The melodies with which the piece abounds are sung by Mark Smith, Ed. Connell, of London, Wm. H. One feature of the spectacle that will especially delight the little ones is the stage coach and real ponies by which Cinderell goes to the ball. The specialty features are umerous and first-class.

THERD COURTE

FRIDAY AVENING, SEPT. 17 188 MAINE

THE ATTEMPTED COUNT OUT

New York, Sept. 17.—The national Democratic committee has issued the following statement relative to the election in the state of Maine :

HEADQUARTERS NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COM. NEW YORK, Sept. 17. The latest reliable and official returns received from Maine are as follows : Returns from 428 towns gives Plaisted 70,019, Davis 70,698; Republican majority 679. In the same towns in 1876 the opposition vote was 57,498, Republican 72,765, Republican majority 15,266. Republican loss in 1880 from the corresponding election in 1876, 14,587. There are fifty-eight towns and six plantations yet to be heard from. Relative gains in these towns, as compared with 1876, would give us at lowest estimate over 1,000 Democrotic majority. Republican manipulators in Maine are pretending to claim a majority for Davis and are undoubtedly trying to doctor the returns to bear out this claim. It remains to be seen whether they propose to begin in Maine to inaugurate the frauds of 1876. For two days Mr. Blaine and the Republican leaders conceded Mr. Plaisted's election as the Republican party did Tilden's in 1876. The entire machinery for counting the vote is in the hands of the Republican returning board. Usually in past years it has only required about two days to ascertain definite results in Maine. This year all the first returns showed great Demoeracic gains, and it was only when the cracic gains, and it was only when the Republican manipulators have stopped the returns coming in, and delayed them until they could be altered, that changes were made in favor of Davis. For instance, the county of Kennebec, which usually completes its returns in one day, was held back until after Thursday, and it is openly asserted by a former Republican leader that the returns are kept back for manipulation. Two of the Congressmen, Murch and Ladd, are conceded. Philbrick, (Dem.,) candidate in Blaine's disiriet, while actually elected, may be counted out by fraud by a very small majority, under 100.
